TALL stories

Tales from the Built Environment

with Farran Inglis

1
Farran Inglis Project Manager at RCP

Learn more about RCP at rcp.co.nz

2
Studied Bachelor of Bldg. Science at VUW

Explore Building Science at the Victoria University of Wellington website

3
The Justice Precinct as Farran's first project

Farran acquired this project at the age of 25

4
Doing things differently is encouraged

Creative thinking and collaboration is the key to problem solving

5
An advice on becoming a Project Manager

Know and understand what companies align with your personal goals

6
Experience in construction

His trade experience paved way to his career in Project Management

7
Being motivated is an ideal characteristic

As a team member it is important to be motivated and willing to learn

8
A good leader should be able to listen

This will allow the voice of the team to be heard and understood

9
Connecting with the younger generation

Time at the New Zealand Institute of Building was well spent and enabled connection with the youth

SPONSORED BY
GIB

Listen to more stories on Apple Podcasts

Visit us at nziob.org.nz